

Key Facts

- A decade is ten years.
- Beyond living memory is over 100 years
- Technology has changed many people's lives today
- Maps can show us how places have changed
- Schools and education have changed from the past to the present day.
- In the Victorian era, children were expected to work at age 11

Headteacher: Mr Robert Fenton

History

Year 2

Autumn

How was school different in the past?

A Victorian classroom

What does this photo show you about what classrooms in the Victorian era look like?

living memory*

100 ← Now
years ago

beyond living memory*

← 100
years ago

past

← Now

Time that has already happened.

present

→ Now

Time happening now.

Timeline of schools in the past

thistle pictures / Alamy Stock Photo

1900s

1960s

1980s

Now

Vocabulary

Word	Definition
Beyond living memory	Events that people alive today cannot remember.
Living memory	Events remembered by people who are alive.
Period	A section of time with a set beginning and end.
Date	A specific day, month or year on which something happens.
Decade	A period of 10 years
Different	Not being the same.
Important	Something that is significant.
Modern	Connected to present times.
Past	Time that has already happened.
Present	Time happening now.
Similar	Like something else.
Timeline	A line showing events in time order.